

Lino[®] 3D Configuration Solution

Lino is a developer and provider of technology-leading software solutions and consulting services for design and sales automation, system configuration and 3D visualization. With the Lino team and Tacton Configurator and software Made by Lino[®] products, companies from various industries are implementing integrated, efficient sales and product development processes with great potential for savings.

The Tacton technology sets entirely new standards in product configuration and revolutionizes the drafting, configuration and selling of complex industrial products. In combination with Software Made by Lino[®] products, applications from CAD, PDM, PLM, ERP, CRM, CAM, web and eCommerce can be easily integrated with Tacton software.

From process analysis and training to installation and even rollout support and process-related consulting, Lino offers practical know-how and versatile competence for the integration of innovative technologies in operational processes. Lino GmbH operates seven offices in Germany and Austria: Bremen, Mainz, Stuttgart, Nuremberg, Dresden, Raabs (A) and Dällikon (CH).

PHILOSOPHY

We provide our customers with the highest quality support possible and adhere to stringent standards of professionalism throughout the entire working relationship.

The success of our customers is our primary objective. We believe in the quality of our software products and our employees. We have high standards for our own work performance and rely on strong partnerships to meet additional requirements in the best possible way.

Lino creates sustainable value for customers, investors and employees. In doing so, our enterprise acts in full awareness of its social and ethical responsibilities. Enterprise success requires a broad, solid foundation.

Lino. The Leading Innovation Company.
